HERE IS YOUR REMEDY.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

A MOST MIRACULOUS CURE OF BAD LEGS, AFTER 43 YEARS' SUFFERING.

Extract of a Letter from Mr. William Graham, of ... Main Street, Weymouth, dated May 15th, 1851.

To Professor Holloway.

SIR,—At the age of 18 my wife (who is now ...) caught a violent cold, which settling in her ... and ever since that time they have been more or ... sore, and greatly inflamed. Her medical attendant ... distraction, and for months together she was ... prived entirely of rest and sleep. Every remedy ... that medical men advised was tried, but without ... effect; her health suffered severely, and the state ... of her legs was terrible. I had often read your ... advertisements, and advised her to try your Pills ... and Ointment; and, as a last resource after every ... other remedy had proved useless, she consented to ... do so. She commenced six weeks and a-half ago ... to rejoice, is now in good health. Her legs are ... painless, without a sore, and her skin perfectly ... sound and undisturbed. Could you have witnessed ... the sufferings of my wife during the last 15 years, ... and contrast them with her present enjoyment of ... health, you would indeed feel delighted in having ... been the means of so greatly alleviating the ... sufferings of a fellow creature.

(Signed) WILLIAM GRAHAM.

A PERSON, 70 YEARS OF AGE, CURED OF A BAD LEG, OF THIRTY YEARS' STANDING.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Wm. Abbs, ... Ovenden of Rushcliffe, near Huddersfield, dated May 31, 1851.

To Professor Holloway.

SIR,—I suffered for a period of thirty years from a bad leg; the result of two or three different accidents at Gas Works. I accompanied the several symptoms. I had recourse to a variety of medical advice, without deriving any benefit, as I was ... even told that the leg must be amputated, yet in opposition to that opinion, your Pills and Ointment have effected a complete cure in a short time, ... that few who had not witnessed it would credit the fact. (Signed) WILLIAM ABBS.

A DREADFUL BAD BREAST CURED IN ONE MONTH.

Extract of a letter from Mrs Frederick Turner, ... shurst, Kent, dated December 15th, 1851.

To Professor Holloway.

DEAR SIR,—My wife had suffered from bad Breasts for more than six months, and during the whole period had the best medical attendance ... all to no use. Having before heard so much of your Pills and Ointment, I determined to have your Pills and Ointment, and therefore gave them a trial. How thankful am I fortunate it was I did so, for in less than a month a perfect cure was effected, and the breasts that ... visible other brothers of my family have derived from their use is really astonishing. I now strongly recommend them to all my friends.

(Signed) FREDERICK TURNER.

The Pills should be used conjointly with the Ointment in most of the following cases:

Bad Legs	Coco-Bay
Bad Breasts,	Cancers
Burns	Contracted and Stiff Joints
Bunions	Gout
Bite of Mosquitoes and Sand Flies	Elephantiasis

SECRET OF BEAUTY.

HOW TO BE HANDSOME

I can instruct any person how to be handsome. I teach how to make brown skin fair; I teach how to achieve top, pimples and freckles. I teach how to change a yellow complexion to white. I teach how to mould the wrinkled countenance. I teach how to make a bad breath perfectly sweet. I teach how to make red whiskers and beards brown. I teach how to make diseased gums healthy. I teach how to make the hair grow luxuriantly. I teach how to prevent the growth of whiskers, moustaches, &c. I teach how to have bright and sparkling eyes. I teach how to preserve the eyesight perfect. I teach how to restore impaired eyesight. I teach how to change grey hair to its original colour. I teach how to change the colour of the hair, as desired. I teach how to make the hair soft as silk and glossy. I teach how to make the lips and cheeks red. I teach how to remove superfluous hair. I know the above are all perfectly harmless. I know they are all very cheap and pleasant. I know every person will use them. I give directions for using and use the compound. I know they are better than any nostrum. I ask ONLY ONE DOLLAR for the whole. Sent to those who receive no letters unless post paid.

Address or send to M. LAVASSE, French Chemist, 164 Nassau Street, corner of Ann, New York—he will send the work by mail or otherwise.

PROOF OF TESTIMONIALS.

Copies of Letters received by the Proprietor of M. Lavasse.

From Miss A. L. Bonnet, of 31 East Broadway, N. Y.

"The Recipes contained in M. Lavasse's Secret of Beauty are excellent. The directions for removing freckles are simple, so also are the instructions about the tetter and game.

From Mrs. Sarah Lyon, 220 Houston St., N. Y.

M. Lavasse's instructions about making hair curl and smooth, are excellent. I speak from my own experience. I am now over 50 years of age, and they make and become quite silken and ringlets. I tried M. Lavasse's system and remedies as printed in his work on Beauty, and now my skin is quite fair and clear.

From Mrs. J. M. Agar, 205 Bleecker St.

I most highly commend M. Lavasse's receipts for Sweetening the Breath and Beautifying the Teeth. They have been adopted in my family with astonishing success.

From Mr. H. L. Smith, 394 Grand St., N. Y.:

"I have tried Mr. Lavasse's plan for increasing the growth of Whiskers, Hair, &c. The directions he gives in his Secret of Beauty, are worth a fortune to all who want whiskers, &c.

Mr. Stephen Stewart, of Newark, New Jersey, says that his eye sight has been greatly improved by using M. Lavasse's directions and treatment for weak eyes. His friends have also tried the system with great benefit.

From Col. E. T. Sanford, 33 Canal St., New York.

I have been buying your instructions for colouring the hair, and have met with them. The book called the Secret of Beauty is worth hundreds of dollars to all who want the hair coloured.

From Miss Kate Townsend, Waverly Place, New York:

"The directions M. Lavasse gives for restoring grey hair are the best I ever tried. His plan is far better than Carnahan, because it is simpler."

M. Lavasse could fill large books with testimonials in favor of his different plans for improving the appearance, preserving the teeth, hardening the gums, &c.—His work is the most popular thing ever printed. All ages, classes and sexes unite in its praise. He is selling thousands of books of his work every month.—By the receipts called the Secret of Beauty, directions for making and using the different articles advertised. M. Lavasse does not prepare them for sale. His time is too much taken up in attending to his vast correspondence. You can send the money by mail for one dollar, (see notice.) There is no danger of its being lost. On receipt of the dollar the Secret of Beauty is sent by mail to any part of the United States, postage paid.

Subscription to Clubs.—To persons sending neighborhood clubs eight copies will be sent for FIVE DOLLARS. Persons desiring information. Address as above.

No person has sell this work without written authority from M. LAVASSE.

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

the independents of their country, to early liberty, and who left no means untried to infuse into their own hearts the full love of its spirit, will ever take these feasts daily and heartily to themselves, where they can celebrate the revolution as a people, and which since that time has been the object of enthusiastic reverence by all the lovers of liberty throughout the world.

But, gentlemen and fellow citizens, but to pursue even those general political remarks too far, I may say the task of politics is a thorny path. It is not agreeable sometimes to turn aside from it, and to walk along on the velvet verdure of pleasant vales, refreshed with the flowers, and enriched with the fruits of friendship social regard and seasonal hilarity. We all of one of these walks that we are assembled here to-day.

Gentlemen, I propose to leave the bitter region of party politics and take you to walk with me a few moments along that vale, which will remind us, of our social relation, the gratitude we owe to God for protection in the past, and the hope we may entertain for the future.

Gentlemen, we cannot shut our eyes, and the intelligent part of mankind does not shut its eyes, to the extraordinary degree of prosperity to which this country has risen, under its present popular form of government. And what is the secret of it all. Taking our whole country there may be some things which we might wish were better, there are many things which might have been written, but up to a period including the close of the late war with England, where does he throw the beam upon the balance more prosperous, more happy, more growing in wealth and renown, than on that of united America. Now, gentlemen, whence do those blessings flow? Whence the overall unparalleled prosperity we enjoy? Most certainly not. No continent there are people equal to the people of the United States, there is no growth equal to the growth of the United States there is no government of people that stands up before the world as the people of the United States is at this present time. Whence is it holds and has held in the world? How will it be in your opinion, gentlemen all this, or the greater part of it, is to be referred to our acquaintance with the principles of public liberty, and to our early adoption of those principles in the establishment of our forms of government. The Poet Scott, as you all gentlemen as you all know, while labor in this all seen to show that the people are best governed when they have no share in their own government, have labored to persuade mankind that those above can govern themselves better than those below. Now, gentlemen, that is not our motto. We hold that there is nothing above anything below. We hold that all men stand on an equality—each man participating in the political prosperity and in public affairs according to the sharing proper to it after formation and administration of government. Dr. Channing one of the writers of the school, says:

"How small of all that human hearts endure,
The part which kings or laws can cause or cure."

Why gentlemen kings or laws can cause or cure most of the evils which belong to social and individual life. Kings can establish despotisms, they can restrain political opinion; they can prevent men from the exercise of the right of suffrage, and from the freedom of the press; they can burden subjects with intolerable burdens of taxes; they can take away all political participation of a man in the affairs of government, and bring about a state of things in which popular freedom of the popular birth is trodden down and destroyed under the feet of intolerable oppression. And to that extent they do every thing. Who is there in civil society that does not feel that these political institutions are for him either a good or for evil—are from your elements of his personal prosperity and happiness? In truth it is very true that a man's personal condition may depend very much on the personal circumstances, his health, the state of his family, his means of living, his means of educating his children, his fortune, good or evil, but all these things are present and fluctuating with the times and the circumstances of the country in which he lives. At that, I take it, is the great secret of the question now no longer doubtful, that here for the first question agitated all over Europe, of the true nature of prosperity and happiness. I therefore say, gentlemen, then, to you and to our neighbors, and to all, may mankind especially to all the crowned heads, and to the monarchies of Europe, that it is self government, it is the principle of popular representation and administration, it is the system to which, under the blessing of Providence, we owe what we are.

Well, gentlemen, who does not see this? Who is there among us who supposes that anything but the independence of the country would have made of what we are? Suppose that mother England had trampled on with the utmost insolence, suppose, I cannot, the independence of the colonies had prevailed; I suppose you to be treated as a spoiled child—I say to you to-day as I have said twenty years before, and will continue to say till the day of my death, that in spite of the nature of any colonial system of Government to raise a country and happy people to the heights we occupy. It is independence it is self government, it is the liberty of the people to make laws for themselves, that have raised us above the subdued feeling of colonial dependence, and to where we are. It is independence. Hail, Independence, hail! Thou great and gift to life and an immortal spirit! (Applause.)

Gentlemen, I have said that our blessings and our prosperity flow essentially from our form of government, from its collection with the people, for institutions of public atonement, and from their desire to help on the general prosperity of the country. There is not a true American in the country who does not rejoice in the general prosperity of the country, who does not take delight day and night in learning of the progress of the country in general, onward, and that the growing and more plentiful harvest is crowned every day. Now this is, or ought to be a matter of pride and happiness to every honest American heart. Whatever a man's personal vocation may be, however fortunate or unfortunate, in whatever circumstances he may be placed he may find himself, he partakes in the general prosperity of the country. He has a (Laughter.) (more intelligible expression)—he has a quarterly, but daily, out of the general prosperity of his country. (Applause.)

Now, let me ask, is what portion of the community, I ask, how many voices of mean, caitiff spirit, or of unworthy thing exist? There are some, no doubt, who have a great respect and attachment for government, and the distinguished men who take the continent of Europe, and the millions who constitute the subordinate elements of Europe, how many of them, for their country, in proportion to the good hope it is that their country will cease to be an object of contempt on them, and instead of considered among the nations of the earth, and which is enjoyed by millions to ensure the comfort and happiness. Compare our condition with that, and the United States, I had a in every thing that advances government, that you can find in across among the civilized nations are under a despotism of govern

Now, gentlemen, we live here, territory, not little in circumference, not circumscribed by any respect of the civilized world—at situation of our country, we are exempt from many of the evils which people are subject to in this city for the purpose of education, from many of the evils which people are subject to in this city for the purpose of education, from many of the evils which people are subject to in this city for the purpose of education,

PATENTS.

American and Foreign Office

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS WITH U. S. PATENT OFFICE, WASHINGTON.

No. 22 State Street, Boston.

IN 1836 the subscriber was appointed by the Commissioner of Patents, Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, in accordance with the 10th Sec. of Act of '37.

Having relinquished the Agency for the transmission of Models, and adopted a more expeditious mode of sending them to the Patent Office, where by Patent will be procured about six weeks earlier than could be forwarded through the usual channels, he continues to procure Patents, Specifications, Assignments and all the necessary Papers and Drawings for Patents, and to render advice as to the best and most scientific manner of securing the same. Patents secured in Europe and other foreign countries.

By application at this office, inventors are saved the time and expense of a journey to Washington and delay, there as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. They also have the advantage (verbally or) in having their Inventions and if consulting in respect to them, matters in general of patentability, or in order to obtain further information and relative to the experience of fifteen years' practice, an extensive collection of Patent Office Models, and a most scientific library of Patents, and other documents, a direct and much shorter course during the time that this office has been established, together with accounts here kept of inventions patented at Washington, enable the subscriber to afford inventors, desirous to procure Patents, assistance and information, which in other respects might be difficult of attainment.

H. E. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents.

WASHINGTON, JULY 21, 1849.—During the time I occupied the Office of Commissioner of Patents, H. E. EDDY, Esq. of Boston, did business at the Patent Office as Solicitor for procuring Patents. There were few, if any, persons acting in this capacity who had so much business before the Patent Office, and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring Inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
